Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 25 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Christmas Day cloudy with some rain. Chilly wind.

Today:
A damp, misty start to Christmas Day with some patchy light rain. Eastern areas drier by afternoon but further showery rain is likely to spread from the west, especially later. Feeling chilly with winds becoming brisk. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tonight:
A cloudy night across the region with rain affecting western areas spreading further east to reach Kent later in the night. Becoming drier from west with chance of a shower. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Sunday:
Cloudy start to Boxing Day with rain clearing Kent. All parts turning brighter from the west with scattered showers likely, perhaps heavy near coasts. Winds mainly light. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Monday and Tuesday mostly cloudy with some rain at times and temperatures near normal. Wednesday perhaps milder as windy weather probably spreads across the region with further rain.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.